PAST SIMPLE. AN AVERAGE WEEKEND

EXERCISE.- 1.- CHANGE THE FOLLOWING TEXT INTO THE PAST SIMPLE

	CHANGE INTO THE PAST SIMPLE TENSE
Every weekend I get up late and I don't go to school. My parents don't go to work either. We do all the housework together because it's fair to share the housework and duties. My father doesn't cook, but he makes the beds, does the shopping and washes the car. My mother cooks and washes the dishes but she doesn't iron the clothes. My older sister irons the clothes; however, she doesn't sweep the floor. I can't cook, I can't iron, but I also help with the housework: I set and clear the table, I have to put out the rubbish and I also walk our lovely pet: our dog Bark. Besides housework, we also do things that we like and want: we have dinner in a restaurant on Saturday evening, we watch some TV on Sundays, we visit our grandparents and we go to bed late. There are some other things that we enjoy but this is our typical weekend. I have to say that we usually study for the exams on Saturday morning and we do our homework too.	....
