

HOW TO EXPRESS CONSEQUENCE. / TOO – ENOUGH.

① Mark is very shy; as a consequence, he finds it difficult to meet new people.
as a result,
consequently thus, Therefore this is why

como consecuencia, por lo tanto
por esa razón

② Mark is so shy that he finds it difficult to meet new people (So + adj/adverb)
 Mark has so much shyness that he finds it difficult to meet new people

③ Mark is such a shy man that he finds it difficult to meet new people (such (a/an) + adjective + noun).

④ Mark is too shy to meet new people (too + adj/adverb)

⑤ Mark is not outgoing enough to meet new people
 Mark hasn't got enough friendliness to meet new friends.

enough + noun
Adj /Adverb. + enough

Phil can't carry that suitcase because it's really heavy.

- 1.- That suitcase is really heavy; this is why Phil can't carry it.
- 2.- That suitcase is so heavy that Phil can't carry it
- 3.- Phil has such a heavy suitcase that he can't carry it.
- 4.- That suitcase weighs so much that Phil can't carry it.
- 5.- That suitcase is too heavy for Phil to carry it.
- 6.- Phil is not strong enough to carry that suitcase.
- 7.- Phil hasn't got enough strength to carry that suitcase.

NOW IT'S YOUR TURN..... Try to write as many sentences as you can by using different structures and without changing the meaning.

1. Macario cannot find a girlfriend because he's very ugly and impolite
2. Paco's house is very small and 3 people can't live it.
3. The car is very expensive . We can't afford it.

SO/ SUCH(A)

- 1.- She's got an excellent English accent. Everyone always comments on it (so).....
 (such).....
- 2.- Bali has beautiful temples. Tourists from all over the world come to see them (so).....
 (such).....
- 3.- She plays tennis very good. As a consequence, she's won a lot of tournaments
 (so).....
 (such).....

TOO/ ENOUGH

- 1.- He is very young and he can't drive yet
 (too).....
 (enough).....
- 2.- She's not experienced, so she won't get the job
 (too).....
 (enough).....
 (enough).....
- 3.- My sister is very young and she shouldn't watch horror films (too).....