

CLONES (Script of the excerpt) (1:14)

The family is said to be the pillar of human society. What would happen if we changed in a fundamental way how our babies are made? A highly controversial effort is under way: to produce children by cloning.

- If the US would decide to ban this technology, it wouldn't affect us in any way in shape and form. We have friendlier countries, friendlier territories, friendlier people to be working with us.
- It's reckless and irresponsible and it ignores scientific facts.
- If it works we are going to start diverging from the standard natural human being to the genetically enhanced human being.

Advancing at a breathtaking speed cloning is not just about babies. This new technology may save lives and heal the sick.

- It's a miracle that nature is giving us this gift.

It may alter our pets, farms and zoos. It may be even bring animals back from the dead. Welcome to the clone Age.
