

JOHNNY GOT HIS GUN scene 1

Johnny: Hello, out there! Kareen, Oh Kareen, where are you? We only made love to each other one time in our, in our whole life.

Kareen : Joeeee; Joeeeee Come out in the garden in the pale moonlight.

Johnny: Is that you, Kareen?

Kareen: Not Joe, I had to get married. So, I'm somebody else's Kareen.

Johnny: But where is mine?

Kareen: In the pale moonlight, where she said she'd be.

Johnny: Kareen!

Kareen: why did you bring me to a place like this?

Johnny: I didn't. I heard you calling.

Kareen: I called, and I called and you never came.

Johnny : What's all happened? How late am I? How long have I been away?

Kareen: I don't know. It may have been forever, though. I can't remember.

Johnny: Oh, try, Kareen. Please, try. You see? I don't know how long I've been here. I don't know what year I'm in and I'm trying to get back into time.

Kareen: I don't pay much attention to time anymore.

Johnny: You must, I think about this time.

Kareen: time is what makes people old.

Johnny: The way I am, Kareen the way it is with me, you'll never grow old, because I'll keep you right here in my mind, and in my heart just the way you were when I saw you last, so you see with me you can't grow old; your hair will always stay brown, your skin will always be fresh like rain. I won't let one little wrinkle mark your face. I'll keep you beside me young and beautiful forever, because of all the people in the world only with me will you be safe from time, like a fresh, fresh flower, like a rose!

Kareen: I'm not , I'm not . Nobody loves me anymore

Johnny: I do, Kareen.
