GRANDFATHER: Yeah, look at you! ( to Clark) Well, Son, it's been far too long since We've seen you.

CLARK: Good to see you, Pa. Let me grab your bags, help you get settled.

GRANDMOTHER: Where's Ellen?

CLARK: She's at Work.

GRANDFATHER: Work?

GRANDMOTHER: At home?

CLARK: At the tailor's.

----- ( Ellen gets home riding her horse)

MISSY: We've been Waiting for you.

ELLEN: I can see that. Hello, sweetheart. Mmm! Come here. Your folks get in all right?

CLARK: They're actually already here.

ELLEN: I'm late? And I'm the Wife Who didn't make supper? Your ma's gonna have something to say about that.

CLARK: Oh, she'll be fine. Don't Worry about her.

ELLEN ( To Missy) You all Washed up?

MISSY: Yes, ma'am. Pa made me.

ELLEN: Then what are we waiting on? Let's go eat.

CLARK: So, how was your first day?

ELLEN: I enjoy Working With Sarah.

CLARK: Yeah?

ELLEN: You know she's a widow.

CLARK: Yeah.

ELLEN: You know Ben's a widower.

CLARK: Mm-hmm Yeah, he has two kids too.

ELLEN: Mm-hmm.

CLARK: Ellen, don't get any ideas.

ELLEN ( entering the house and meeting her father in law ) Well, hello, Lloyd.

LLOYD: Ellen. Oh! So good to see you.

ELLEN: It is so good to see you.

LLOYD: Look at you.

ELLEN: How was your trip in?

LLOYD: Oh, not bad. Not bad at all. I do have to admit though. The old back does need a good night's rest.

ELLEN: ( to her mother in law ) Irene, it is so Wonderful to see you.

IRENE: Ellen.

ELLEN: I'm sorry I'm late.

IRENE: I understand you're Working.

ELLEN: I am. Today Was my first day.

IRENE: You know, in my time, a woman really wouldn't...

LLOYD: ( by kissing his wife to deliberately interrupt the conversation ) MWah!

IRENE: Oh, my! Stop.

LLOYD: What do you say we eat?

IRENE: Just go sit down.

( after dinner, leaving the house )

ELLEN: Are you sure you're gonna be okay staying in town?

IRENE: Oh, my, yes. We don't wanna impose. I almost forgot. I brought you something.

LLOYD ( To his son ) I'll be here in the morning.

CLARK: No, Pa, you don't have to do that.

LLOYD: Now, look, look... I've been around long enough to know that if the wife has to take a job things aren't going as Well as they could be.

CLARK: 8:00?

LLOYD: I'll be here.

IRENE: ( Giving a doll to Missy ) There.

MISSY: She's beautiful, Grandma. I love her. Thank you.

IRENE: Oh, good. I'm so glad.

MISSY: Look, Mom.

ELLEN: She's lovely.

IRENE: Thank you. I made her special for you.

MISSY: I will keep her with me always. Thank you so much, Grandma. Pa, look What Grandma made for me.

CLARK: I see that. What's her name gonna be?

MISSY: I don't know. I just got her.

LLOYD: ome on. We better get going. It's a long Way into toWn.

..... ( early in the morning, Lloyd and Clark are getting water from the river )

LLOYD: Son, Why didn't you tell us you were having trouble with the land?

CLARK: A man's gotta stand on his own. I didn't wanna come begging for help.

LLOYD: Yep, a man does have to go off and find his way, make his own life. But he shouldn't forget where he comes from.

CLARK: I didn't want you to think I couldn't take care of my family.

LLOYD: Son, I Would never. So, how long has this well been dry anyway?

CLARK: It's been a spell. Just had enough for the garden and the animals from the creek. But... it's been barely enough to sustain us.

LLOYD: Well, have you tried digging a little deeper into the well?

CLARK: Yes, sir, but... I hit rock.

LLOYD: Yeah, Well, I noticed you, uh... you dug another one out in the field in front of the house.

CLARK: - Yes, sir, same problem.

LLOYD: Well, I think I may know of a way to get you some water without having to dig wells all over creation. Your old man knows a thing or two about dealing with a drought.

----- ( cut to the taylor's. Sara and Ellen)

SARAH: What do you think, hmm?

ELLEN: Oh, it's beautiful. You are truly an artist.

SARAH: Why, thank you.

ELLEN: Can I ask you something, Sarah?

SARAH: Certainly.

ELLEN: Your husband, he passed on a couple of years back.

SARAH: Yes.

ELLEN: He's still in your heart?

SARAH: He will always be in my heart.

ELLEN: What I meant was ...do you ever see yourself with somebody else? Remarrying, I mean?

SARAH: At first I didn't. No, the pain was so strong. I couldn't imagine a time when I could be open to someone else. But time has a way of changing things without you knowing. It took some time, but, uh... I think the Lord has allowed my aching heart to heal.

ELLEN: Ben Graham lost his Wife. He's a good man, a good father.

SARAH: And he is a rather handsome man, I must say.
