

MONSTERS VS ALIENS

DEREK: Did you like that sign off? Just made it up

SECRETARY: Oh, my goodness!

DEREK: wait, wait, wa... it!

SUSAN: Oh, Derek! You wouldn't believe my last 3 weeks. Just wouldn't believe it Thinking about you was the only thing that kept me sane.

DEREK: ...Can't breath!

SUSAN : Oh, my gosh Oh my gosh, I'm so sorry Oh my god Is that better?

OK OK I'm just still kind of getting used to my new strength

DEREK: Wow, you really are big

SUSAN: Yeah, but I'm still me I'm still the same girl you fell in love with

DEREK: Except you did just destroyed the Golden Gate bridge

SUSAN: Well, that was the only way I was gonna stop that giant robot. Did you ever think I could do something like that?

DEREK: No, I didn't. I can honestly say that it never ever, ever, ever ever, ever ever occurred to me.

SUSAN: I know this is a little weird... Ok, it's a lot weird But we'll figure it out. I know that together we can find a way to get me back to normal

DEREK: Susan, try to look at this from my perspective I have an audience that depends on me for news, weather, sports and heart warming fluff pieces. So you expect me to put all that on hold while you try to undo this thing that happened to you? That I had absolutely nothing to do with?

SUSAN: Yes. That's exactly what I expect. What about the life we always talked about?
Don't you still want that?

DEREK: Of course I just, don't see...don't see how I can have that with your

SUSAN: Derek Please...Don't do this

DEREK: You have to face facts Susan. And don't crush me for saying this, but I'm not looking to get married and spend the rest of my life on someone else's shadow and you're casting a pretty big shadow. Lo siento. It's over. Good luck, Susan
