

THE CELESTINE PROPHECY

PLOT:

The movie opens in Peru in 1622, with 8 secret scrolls. Then it cuts to the present day, where John, a popular history teacher, is laid-off from his job. He is packing up his desk and on the chalkboard it says: Today's Lesson: Creation & Evolution. Above the chalkboard is a paper story-board that says EVOLUTION: The Story of Creation. It shows scenes from the beginning of time, going through evolution from plant to ape to man to our current fast-paced technological age and then there is a big blank white spot where John writes in black-magic marker in huge letters: WHAT'S NEXT?

This alone is enough to get people thinking. What's next? It's a great question. Obviously, when you look at history from a larger perspective, you can see that we are evolving and everything is changing constantly all the time. WHAT'S NEXT?

I don't want to spoil the movie by giving away what happens. I will tell you he goes to Peru in search of the prophecy. I highly recommend this movie as well as the journey that each of us must ultimately take. This movie – like the prophecy says – will make us look at everything different. There is a line in the movie that says “St. Francis could see beauty where others couldn't.”

This is our destiny: to see beauty where others see none. To see the world of light and energy that is beyond the seemingly solid world we seem to live in. It's about seeing the world the way it really is. There are many important messages in this movie:

OPEN UP, LET GO., PAY ATTENTION. GIVING IS THE SECRET TO KEEPING YOURSELF CONNECTED.

TEXT:

Marjorie: It's what I need to remember instead of getting angry all the time. I mean, that's the eighth insight. Come here. It says that instead of taking energy from each other, you give it, all the time. No matter what, like Father Sánchez is doing. Look at him John. Really look.

Father Sánchez : Giving energy is a process. When someone's energy increases, you can see it in their expression, so you look for that higher expression. And in every situation.....you know your energy is moving into them when you get a feeling.

John: A feeling?

Father: On the cliff, when you open up, remember? What did you feel?

John: I felt a kind of completeness, a wholeness, This...This unmatched euphoria- You're talking about love, aren't you?

Father: Yes, Giving is the secret to keeping yourself connected, because your energy and your love builds up in you first, as it flows out to others . It's what the saints have always known how to do. It's what you and I have to do now is help them.

Other woman: wait a minute. Maybe we were misreading this. Father Sanchez, John, come here. I found something in the translations. Look at this, this phrase.

“ .....(she reads out sth written in Hebrew”)

Father Sánchez: What does it mean?

Other woman: It means, roughly, to amplify. I thought it just referred to one person giving energy to another. But now I think it's something more. It's one thing to just give energy. But if we give it to someone who is also giving it back, then we build energy among ourselves. It amplifies, back and forth. It says that if we were all doing this, humanity would take another step in evolution.

Marjorie: Does it say where all we'll go?

John: Maybe is what the ninth is going to tell us.

Man: That's it, isn't it? ; that is where it is going to happen.
