

THE VOW

FILM	THE VOW
MOVIE SCENE	"I DON'T REMEMBER YOU"
SCENE LENGTH	00:05:53
SCRIPT	X
VIEW the SCENE	http://eslmoviescenes.blogspot.com.es/2012/04/vow-genre-romance-drama-scene-length.html
LANGUAGE	English
LEVEL	Advanced.

Storyline

Leo and Paige are a couple who just got married. After an accident, Paige is left unconscious, and when she awakes she doesn't remember Leo. Her parents, whom she hasn't since she and Leo got together, come and visit her. She can't believe that she hasn't seen them for such a long time. Leo wants to bring her home with him but her parents want her to go with them. She goes with Leo but when she doesn't recognize anything, she goes to her parents. And she wonders why did she cut off contact with her family. She also runs into her ex and wonders why they broke up. Leo tries to win her back by courting her again.

THE VOW. SCENE 1

(IN HOSPITAL, SOME WEEKS AFTER THE CAR CRASH)

DOCTOR: Paige, your long-term memory recall is intact... and I'm very optimistic the rest of your memory is going to improve with time.... Mr. Collins, I'm so glad you're here.

LEO: This is bizarre. I'm Leo, Paige's husband.

FATHER: Do you know how disconcerting it was to hear second-hand that my daughter had been in the ICU for weeks and we hadn't been told?

MOTHER: You should have called us.

LEO: I'm sorry.

PAIGE: You've never met my parents? I don't understand. Why haven't you met him?

MOTHER: So, Doctor, now what is the next step?

DOCTOR: The sooner she settles back into her life, her normal routine, the better. Starting in a week or so, I'm gonna recommend that Paige see a neural psychologist.

LEO: Okay.

FATHER: Whatever she needs. Therapy, specialists, I'll make sure she gets the best.

MOTHER: You'll come home where I can take care of you.

FATHER: Mom can make up your old room, and I can take some time off work.

LEO: I don't mean to be disrespectful, 'cause we really appreciate that, but you just heard Paige's doctor say... that she needs to go back to her normal routine. Her life with me is her normal routine.

MOTHER: Yes, but that's a life she doesn't remember.

LEO: She will. That's what her doctor just got through saying.

FATHER: No. What she said was that maybe Paige will remember.

MOTHER: Now, why not let her come home and recover with people that she knows?

FATHER: And loves?

MOTHER: We're only trying to do the best for Paige.

LEO: That's interesting, 'cause you haven't even asked her once.

MOTHER: Well, no, but...

PAIGE: What I really need is for everyone to just stop bickering!

DOCTOR: Listen, none of this needs to be decided right now.

MOTHER: No. Sorry.

DOCTOR: I think you should all head home, get some rest. I'm sure everyone could use it.

----- (Cut to a cafeteria)

PAIGE: How is it that you're my husband and you've never met my family?

LEO: You haven't spoken to them in years.

PAIGE: Why would I ever stop speaking to my family?

LEO: It all went down before we met.

PAIGE: And we never talked about it?

LEO: No, we did.

PAIGE: So?

LEO: For starters, you wanted to move into the city and go to the Art Institute. And your father insisted that you stay in law school. He had some pretty strict views on what you ought to be doing. Things just spiraled from there.

PAIGE: Okay. Look, what I remember is being in law school and being engaged to Jeremy. I... I don't know.

LEO: Paige. Okay, babe, babe, just, just...The best thing to do at this point is to go back to your life with me. You heard what the doctor said. It's the best thing for your recovery.

PAIGE: Okay, but I don't know you. And I'm just supposed to get in your car and go and live at your place?

LEO: It's our place.

PAIGE: Without any proof of us even being in love?

LEO: Other than our marriage?

PAIGE: People get married for all kinds of different reasons.

LEO: Okay. Like?

PAIGE: Like for a green card.

LEO: I'm from Cincinnati.

PAIGE: Did I keep a journal?

LEO: No, not that I know of.

----- (Paige gets back to her room in hospital)

PAIGE (To her parents) I guess this is all he could find.

MOTHER: Oh, well. It looks fine, honey. I mean, we're just going home, so...

PAIGE: It's horrible...

DOCTOR: Paige? I understand you're finally leaving us.

PAIGE: Oh, yes, that's what they tell me.

DOCTOR: So, no driving until I give you the say-so. But other than that, I'm gonna see you in four to six weeks. All right?

PAIGE: Thank you so much.

MOTHER: Thank you, Doctor, for everything.

FATHER: Thank you, Doctor.

MOTHER: Okay. You ready? Let's go.

(Leo appears out of the blue, running)

LEO: Wait, hold on. I got a voicemail. It's from before the accident. You said you wanted evidence.

PAIGE: Okay, yeah. Well, let's have a listen.

(Leo plays the phone message)

PAIGE: Hey, baby. Ugh. I'm sorry, I'm still at my studio. I miss you so bad my sculptures are starting to look like you. So, what are you doing later? I kind of need some Leo time, if you know what I mean. Yeah. Anyway, call me back. Love you.

LEO: I don't know, I guess in listening back to it, it doesn't exactly prove anything.

PAIGE: No, no, it's... it's cute. I mean, I sound happy.

LEO: Okay, look. Think about it. You quit law school, you broke off your engagement and you moved into the city. Those were all choices that you made, way before you even met me. I think that you owe it to yourself to honor those decisions, at least for right now.

MOTHER: This is a mistake, Paige.

LEO: I promise that I will take care of her. Please, come home with me. Come home with me. We'll figure this out together.

PAIGE: I guess I could just try it out to see if it would help my memory and... I could always come home if I change my mind. I married him. It must have been for some reason.

MOTHER: A guarded endorsement.

LEO: But I will take it.